Dear Recruiter,

I was excited to find your recent job posting, which I feel matches your requirements.

I'm currently a student pursuing my Bachelor of Technology in Computer science and Engineering with specialization in Data Science at GITAM School of Technology (2020-2024) and looking to join the workforce and gain real-world experience. I'm reliable and able to complete tasks on time in both individual and team settings. Through my academic and extracurricular projects, I've developed my communication, leadership and interpersonal skills that will serve this role and your company well.

I learned programming, data science techniques, and basic SQL techniques. I have gained very good knowledge about Python, Java, Linux like languages and AWS, GCP, Docker, Ansible technologies and completed some projects. And also I am enthusiastic to learn and work in cloud projects.

Best Regards,

PUJARI RAKESH
